

DORIANE PIN

HONOURED BY THE FIA WOMEN IN MOTORSPORT COMMISSION

In preparation for her first season in single-seaters, Doriane Pin was selected from 71 candidates to participate in the Winfield Volant at the Paul Ricard circuit. She was the youngest of the 2019 Volant contenders.

"I'm excited to have the opportunity to drive an F4 again," said Doriane. "I learned the unique layout of the Paul Ricard circuit in excellent conditions thanks to the supervision of the instructors of the Winfield Racing School. The driving sessions were followed by video debriefings and analysis of data acquisition. We also participated in several very interesting workshops on the physical and mental aspects, and on the dynamics of the car. It was very informative!"

The track sessions in the Mygale / Renault FIA F4 were eagerly awaited by all participants, especially as the Castellet region was bathed in beautiful sun at the end of January. Doriane progressed with each run by focusing on closing the gap with the fastest. Despite her young age, she achieved remarkable performances.

After these three exciting days, Doriane was pleased to receive the FIA Commission's "Women in Motorsport" award as best female in the selection, which earned her the congratulations of Jarno Trulli, who was a member of the panel.

She will benefit from two days of F4 testing on the Paul Ricard Circuit with the FFSA Academy, as well as a day of training including simulator work, physical and mental preparation sessions, and coaching with the Winfield Racing School.

"I did not expect to be rewarded like this!" added Doriane. "It motivates me even more as the F4 French Championship gets underway in April, because that's the main goal of my season. I thank the FIA "Women in Motorsport" Commission, Winfield Racing School and FFSA Academy for these three very rewarding days."

Like most drivers, Doriane is also taking advantage of the weeks left before the start of the series to continue to gather new partners for her project. There is no doubt that her performances at the Winfield Volant and the prize awarded by the FIA "Women in Motorsport" Commission will help her in her search for sponsors.

Doriane has also launched a crowdfunding campaign to which everyone can contribute on the site www.gofundme.com.
